FÊTE DE LA FLEUR 2013
THURSDAY 20 JUNE
CHATEAU LAGRANGE SAINT JULIEN
AN OUTSTANDING EVENING WITH JAPANESE SOPHISTICATION

The Commanderie du Bon temps will celebrate its Fête de la Fleur as Vinexpo Bordeaux closes on Thursday 20 June at Château Lagrange in Saint-Julien to coincide with the thirtieth anniversary of the property's purchase by the Japanese Group Suntory, one of the leading wine and spirits distributors worldwide.

Château Lagrange, a Saint Julien 3rd Grand Cru Classé, is run today by Bruno Eynard. From the outset of its ownership, Suntory has always expressed a continuous concern for standards and stipulated that quality must constitute an unrelenting quest. In this context of excellence and of the affiliation between Japanese and French cultures, Lagrange will host the very sought-after Fête de la Fleur this June as it celebrates the acquisition of the estate. This thirtieth anniversary is also yet another reminder of the Japanese Group's attachment to the values of Bordeaux and its commitment to the very long term.

Today with more than 1,500 guests, the Fête de la Fleur has become a milestone event for wine lovers from all over the world, who share their passion for the great wines of Médoc and Graves, of Sauternes and Barsac for the duration of a star-struck evening. Many film stars, prominent musicians, starred Chefs and international celebrities have honoured this world-renowned celebration.
